Believing in their creativity and fresh style, we combine their unique perspective with the Papadatos unique brand values. The result is outstanding, and our products showcase these successful collaborations.

JACOPO GIAGNONI

Papadatos and Jacopo Giagnoni: the company started working with the Italian architect and designer back in 2014 and collection after collection, this cooperation continues to strengthen the identity of a brand whose distinguishing feature is continuity.

The first collection, developed jointly with Jacopo Giagnoni consisted of just a few pieces but was hugely successful among all the trade. Thus, ensuing a closer working partnership with Jacopo Giagnoni. The deepest roots of this successful collaboration in terms of the results it has provided, lie in the deep harmony that binds Jacopo Giagnoni to the Papadatos' family and in them sharing the very same mindset. The cultural background, professional experience and sensitivity of Jacopo Giagnoni have found fertile ground in a company that has translated the designer's insights into accomplished projects.

Papadatos collections are born into a setting or environment of shared ideas, surrounded by a myriad of cues and observations. These may come from different sources of inspiration and then converge into aesthetic motifs that interpret the Papadatos style in a modern key, with a special focus on the details, finishings and materials which grant the collections their uniqueness.

A HUMAN COMPANY

ENVIRONMENT

We endeavor to shape the luxurious products, whilst remaining mindful of preserving the planet and its natural resources, and reducing our footprint on climate change and the loss of biodiversity by innovating to support future generations. Sustainability is at the heart of Papadatos' strategy; it is a key element in the process of value creation. In the light of this, the company undertakes steps to reduce the impact of its activities on the protection of natural capital and biodiversity, not only on site, but through its various supply chains, from the production of raw materials to the marketing of the goods and services offered. Evolving the vision of a product 100% environmentally friendly, over the last decade we have been working on putting in place responsible procurement standards and replacing almost every non-green feedstock. We carefully select timber coming solely from renewable plantations and we consistently recycle every unnecessary part. We use resources in a way which respects global limits through a scientific approach, with the aim of reducing the CO2 emissions to the minimum level, and we exclusively consume solar energy for the operation of our production lines.

NON FOR PROFIT

Everything, including design, production, and interactions with partners and customers, is measured in terms of the human dimension today, just as it was in 1990. That is when the story of a family, as well as a business, began. Papadatos encourages initiatives whose ultimate goal is social responsibility. The brand is consistently linked to associations that fight against human inequalities and support people in need.

THE HOTEL & CONTRACT DIVISION

Our team has worked on several projects with well-known designers and property developers, in assisting and identifying the perfect combination between budget, quality and design. From resorts to boutique hotels and office complexes to airports, we know that every commercial space has to be developed according to its own unique identity. Therefore, the study of design and furnishings must be performed based on the use and activities that the new spaces will offer to the public.

Furniture should be functional and harmonious with its surroundings. Papadatos collaborates with leading companies internationally, in order to offer countless options. In many cases, Papadatos can manufacture custom-made furniture at scale, according to the requirements of each project. Our qualified designers in the hotel and contract department participate in the entire project lifecycle; Starting from the project feasibility study, to the full project and site management, time scheduling and site installation.
